REOPENING FINAL PHASES

August seems like a long time ago, but since then we have steadily moved through the first four phases of our reopening plan, thanks to the cooperation of all of the UBC family. Phase 5 includes the return of our Sunday evening, Wednesday evening and other programming. Due to a variety of factors, the decision has been made to delay these programs until at least Spring Break. The Executive Committee, our UBC staff and other leadership will continue to evaluate the various health, staffing, cleaning and other considerations and will provide an additional update on Phase 5 in March. Thank you for helping us safely reopen our campus!

NEW SERMON SERIES: ALL THINGS NEW

If there's ever been a time we were more eager to say goodbye to the old year and say hello to the new one, it's this one I think. But what if we could see this moment as more than just "getting back to normal." What if we set our sights even higher? Faith in Jesus is the pathway that leads to newness of life. So as we begin this new year, let's focus on how to walk that path together.

You can meet the new Transition Team that will guide us through a Congregational Self-Study and prepare the necessary content for a Congregational Profile. This profile will be critical to the work of a Search Committee that will be elected near the end of this phase. Please stay informed and stay connected during this important time in the life of UBC.
